

LifeOnRecord is the perfect way to preserve stories and well-wishes from your wedding party and guests. With a simple phone call, they will leave you personal and meaningful messages that are richer than what you get from guestbooks and on-the-spot videotaping.

Even with photographs and video of your wedding day, the special stories and moments of this time in your life are frequently forgotten. With LifeOnRecord, your family and friends can call whenever they want, wherever they are, and the recordings will be preserved as a keepsake CD.

Using LifeOnRecord is Easy!

Wedding guests are provided with a toll-free number to call and brief instructions on how to leave messages. Callers hear a personal greeting from you and leave a recording in their own voice. You have the option of getting notified as each recording is left, or you can leave it as a surprise for the end. All the messages are sent to you as a CD and are available on our web site, can be sent to you through email, and they are one-click downloadable into iTunes™.

Your family and friends have so much they'd like to share with you - let them say it in their own voices before the rush of the day begins.

Your parents' thoughts when they heard you were getting married...

Your best friend remembering how she felt when you asked her to be the maid of honor...

The advice of your grandparents who have been married for many years...
